

Dr David Hancock

Construction Director in the Cabinet Office & Chartered Engineer

Dr David Hancock is a chartered engineer and the Construction Director in the Cabinet Office.

He leads the Government Construction Community and sits on a variety of across government boards including; Construction Playbook, Cladding remediation, New Prisons Programme, Buckingham Palace refurbishment, British Antarctic Survey and is the non-executive chair of CIRIA

Renowned internationally as a leading author and practitioner in the field of behavioural and programme risk. He has worked across public, private and voluntary sectors and was the risk director for the Terminal 5 Project, Heathrow.

LinkedIn: Dr David Hancock